

Imagine the excitement as you drift downriver, your body tucked in an inflated inner tube, your fingers trailing in the crisp clear river and uphead is the vine-draped opening of mysterious cave.

With your head lamp at the ready, your body relaxed and your guide leading the way cavetubing offers exhilarating alternative combination of rainforest and caves experience.

Most cave-tubing packages includes life vests, tubes and head lamps, tour guide, national park fees and refreshments and can last between 3-6 hours.

Of course, a water proof camera will be handy as you will have many opportunities to record and share this memorable experience.
